RE: S-1773 - School Bus Signs and Reporting School Bus Driver Misconduct

Please be advised that the State of New Jersey Department of Education (N.J.S.A. 39:3B-2) requires any agency, board of education, nonpublic school, or school bus contractor operating a school bus to display a sign across the rear of the bus with a telephone number, website address, or other identifying information which allows the public to report a bus driver's misconduct while operating the school bus to the board of education or nonpublic school for which the school bus provided transportation. The lettering shall be of a color that contrasts with the color of the school bus.

Effective, September 3, 2019, all contractor school bus companies must display this signage on all vehicles that services Newark students.

Please continue to follow the vehicle standards for school buses in New Jersey Motor Vehicle Commission regulations pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:27-7.1 and comply with the statute's requirements as appropriate.

Thanking you in advance.
