

Autism, or autism spectrum disorder (ASD), refers to a broad range of conditions characterized by challenges with social skills, repetitive behaviors, speech and nonverbal communication.

There are many subtypes of autism, and each person with autism can have unique strengths and challenges.

Autism affects an estimated 1 in 59 children. Belmont Runyon School has a wing dedicated to the medically fragile and students with autism. Let's try to understand...

- What is autism?
- How are some students that are born normal can end up becoming autistic?
- What are early signs autism?
- Can early intervention help identify and reduce autism?
- How can we assist our peers who suffers from autism, receive the same education as every other student at Belmont Runyon School?
