Social Emotional Learning

Studies show that Social and Emotional Learning (SEL) provides tools to interrupt the systemic inequity within our schools and beyond by building strong, respectful relationships founded on an appreciation of similarities and differences, learning to critically examine the root causes of inequity, and developing collaborative solutions to community and societal problems.

The Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning (CASEL) defines SEL as the process through which children and adults acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to understand and manage emotions; set and achieve positive goals; feel and show empathy for others; establish and maintain positive relationships; and make responsible decisions.

Introduction to Rethink Ed's SEL Curriculum

Rethink Ed SEL is a K–12 evidence–based program developed for every educator and student. Delivered on a digital platform and designed for easy implementation across learning environments, Rethink Ed provides a flexible and scalable solution that empowers educators to successfully integrate and build a culture around SEL and Equity into their schools.

Adult Professional Learning

- Independent learning modules covering CASEL Competencies, and Social Emotional Learning
- Office Hours and PLC sessions that support the utilization of Rethinks' SEL Curriculum and district wide initiative as well as dive deeper into critical topics. This allows adult learners to explore their own strengths and needs, and to practice applying new or strengthened skills into their lives and learning environments. A calendar of offerings is listed in the chart on the next page.

SEL Training Series

Key to any SEL program is the social and emotional development of its educators and adults who work with children. Rethink Ed SEL provides adult learning modules that focus on the social and emotional needs of adults. These modules align with the student lessons that focus on various CASEL Competencies.
