INTRODUCTION

The purpose of the guidebook is to provide both a comprehensive resource of the district's evaluation tools and policies as well as a quick-reference tool for specific questions. The guidebook outlines the components, requirements and promising practices for evaluating school administrators (Principals, Vice Principals, and Department Chairs). Within the guidebook, you will find the following information:

- Overview of Newark Board of Education's 2023-2024 Leadership Framework
- Processes and best practices for the school administrator evaluation process
- Information about the forms and templates used at each stage of the evaluation process

While the guidebook is intended to be used as a resource for learning about the NBOE evaluation tool and processes, we recognize that questions or issues may arise that are not addressed here. In addition to the resources in this guidebook, the NBOE website (<http://www.nps.k12.nj.us/evaluationresources>) will be continually updated with resources and tools to support you. Additionally, as always, your supervisor – Assistant Superintendent for Principals and Principal for Vice Principals – is an excellent resource for your questions. Finally, you can always reach out to the Office of Educator Effectiveness with your questions or feedback by emailing evaluations@nps.k12.nj.us.

NEWARK BOARD OF EDUCATION LEADERSHIP FRAMEWORK BASICS

The Newark Board of Education (NBOE) Leadership Framework sits at the core of school administrator evaluation in our district. The Framework articulates our shared vision of what effective, transformational leadership looks like in NBOE. It has been developed in alignment with the Professional Standards for Education Leaders (PSEL). The revised Leadership Framework contains six Competencies that can help school administrators lead and manage their staff as well as set a culture of high expectations for students:

- Ethical and Professional Norms
- Curriculum, Assessment and Instruction;
- Student and Family Support;
- Management and Coaching of Instructional Staff;
- Organizational Leadership; and
- Transformational Leadership

In these Competencies, and the specific Indicators embedded in each Competency, the Framework sets high expectations for staff development and management, setting a culture of achievement aligned to the state standards and through a focus on the whole child, and leadership of adults and systems to achieve school-wide success.

In this section, we review the Framework's content in detail, including the: 1) guiding principles; 2) common themes; and 3) linkages to professional development.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Before we set to work revising the Leadership Framework, and throughout the revision process, we established a set of principles that guided its development and application. We also reviewed the nationally recognized Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (PSEL) for guidance. These guiding principles served as the foundation for updating the individual Competencies and Indicators of the Framework to ensure that it captures a complete and accurate picture of quality leadership as recognized by experts around the country. These principles also guided our development of the processes and protocols for using the Framework, including the types of evidence considered, how ratings are determined and the types of support that are provided to school administrators.

Development of the Framework

As we developed and revised the Leadership Framework, we wanted the Framework to meet certain objectives and standards of quality. Specifically, we wanted to ensure that the Framework:

- Articulates our shared vision of effective leadership by clearly outlining our vision of leadership that leads to effective staff management and a strong instructional culture.
- Aligns school administrator evaluation with teacher evaluation by grounding evaluation, feedback, and coaching of instructional staff in the Framework for Effective Teaching.
- Supports instructional shifts required by the State Standards by focusing leadership on school-wide NJSL-aligned instruction and mastery.
- Sets a high but realistic performance bar for leaders by holding all of our school administrators to high standards.
- Articulates expectations clearly and concisely by ensuring common understanding and expectations.

When the Leadership Framework was first introduced, NBOE shared a commitment to collecting school administrator feedback and to revising the Framework based on this feedback. To this end, after conducting focus groups and gathering individual feedback, we made minor changes to the Leadership Framework following the 2012-2013 and 2013-2014 school years to ensure stronger alignment with these principles. Beginning in 2020, as part of our collaboration with the Wallace Foundation, we took a deep look at the expectations of our leadership evaluation tool relative to nationally accepted principles of leadership. The current iteration of the framework includes the work of many stakeholders including Principals, Vice Principals, Assistant Superintendents, Special Assistants, and our partners at the Wallace Foundation.

In addition, we ensured that the Framework was developed in accordance with current state regulations and statute. The connection between our Leadership Framework and the Professional Standards for Education Leaders (PSEL) is noted for each indicator.

COMMON THEMES IN THE LEADERSHIP FRAMEWORK

The Leadership Framework includes essential components for evaluating school administrators. The following common themes cut across the Framework.

- Differentiated development and management of instructional staff: The Leadership Framework focuses attention on school administrator actions aligned with the Framework of Effective Teaching, including evaluation, feedback, and coaching. Since the needs of all staff are different, the Framework focuses on the school administrator's ability to differentiate these actions effectively to manage all instructional staff, not just teachers. The Leadership Framework also outlines clear expectations for the school administrator's ability to retain top performers and develop or exit low performers.
- Building a strong culture of high expectations and achievement: The Leadership Framework requires that school administrators hold high expectations for teaching and learning in their buildings. As a result, it focuses on the school administrator's ability to ensure instructional objectives, materials, and assessment aligned to the State Standards. Furthermore, the Leadership Framework requires a focus on the development of the whole child in reaching these high academic standards, articulating expectations for engaging families and creating a safe and supportive learning environment.
- Adult and Organizational Leadership: In order to achieve high academic expectations, school administrators must hold a vision for success and align and lead their staffs to collectively meet the challenges of achieving those expectations. Additionally, the Leadership Framework focuses on school administrators' abilities to put effective operational systems in place, such as organizational and data systems, to support these efforts.

ALIGNMENT TO STATE STANDARDS

As the NBOE implements the State Standards (NJSLS), the Leadership Framework contains specific expectations that school administrators promote the successful implementation of NJSLS in their buildings. The NJSLS are included in the Framework directly – requiring school-wide knowledge of standards (especially around literacy) and the planning and assessment aligned to the standards – and indirectly – by focusing on evaluation and coaching aligned to the Framework for Effective Teaching which explicitly aligns to teacher strategies required for NJSLS mastery. As a result, school administrators will need to be well-versed in the NJSLS and the skills and knowledge required to achieve the instructional shifts they require.

There are several specific Indicators of the Leadership Framework that are explicitly aligned to the NJSLS, outlined in the table below.

Framework Indicator	NJSLS Alignment
2a. Promote Standards Mastery. Demonstrates a high-level knowledge of the state Standards, effective pedagogy and child development practices, and ensures school-wide focus on the standards.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Ensures individual knowledge of the State Standards and the instructional shifts the standards require.</li> <li>● Ensures all instructional staff hold the same knowledge of standards and instructional shifts.</li> </ul>

OVERVIEW OF THE LEADERSHIP FRAMEWORK

OVERVIEW OF THE NEWARK BOARD OF EDUCATION LEADERSHIP FRAMEWORK

This section provides a more detailed look at the structure of the Leadership Framework and the content of each of the Framework’s Competencies.

The Framework includes both Competencies (numbered 1-6) and, within each Competency, several Indicators (numbered and lettered). The below table outlines the Competencies and Indicators of the Leadership Framework for Principals, Vice Principals, and Department Chairs. (See Appendix A for the complete Framework)

Competencies

Competencies describe the overall expectations for each NBOE school administrator. These are the core professional standards to which school administrators will be held accountable.

Indicators

Indicators describe specific components or behaviors of the Competency. These may be visible during individual site visits or over the course of the year. The Framework identifies what each Indicator looks like in practice at four levels of performance – Highly Effective to Ineffective (see Appendix A for the rubric with this detail) – through the use of descriptor language.

Levels of Performance & Descriptor Language

In the detailed rubric (see Appendix A), descriptor language describes what each Indicator looks like in practice at four levels of performance – Highly Effective, Effective, Partially Effective, and Ineffective

- Highly Effective

A Highly Effective school administrator ensures an exceptional level of school-wide achievement. Such schools consist of highly motivated, aligned adults who take collective ownership over student learning and staff effectiveness and growth. Highly Effective school administrators have the knowledge, skills, and capacity to serve as models for their staff and other school administrators. This performance level is reserved for school administrators who are truly exceptional in their practice.

- Effective

An Effective school administrator frequently meets the expectations set forth by the Framework. Effective school administrators differentiate their strategies to maximize the development and management of staff and leverage effective tools and systems to ensure school-wide achievement.

- Partially Effective

A Partially Effective school administrator may meet some expectations articulated in the Framework, but does not meet all expectations or is inconsistent in meeting these expectations. Typically, there are clear areas where the school administrator might improve his or her practice to achieve effectiveness, or there are clear areas where school staff or systems might improve. Partially Effective performance should not be considered to be meeting expectations.

- Ineffective

An Ineffective school administrator is not meeting expectations for leading in NBOE. There are several areas where the school administrator must improve his or her practice to achieve effectiveness, or several areas where school staff or systems must improve. Immediate improvement is required for school administrators at the Ineffective level.

SAMPLE SOURCES OF EVIDENCE

Below is a detailed description of each Competency as well as some possible examples of evidence for the competency. These examples are simply a starting point for evaluators; they are not exhaustive and are not meant to limit an evaluator’s assessment of a school administrator’s performance.

Competency 1: Ethical and Professional Norms: Acts ethically and according to professional norms to promote students’ academic success and well-being Effectively uses curriculum and assessment tools to advance standards-aligned instruction.

Indicators	Examples of Evidence
2a. Promote State Standards Mastery. Demonstrates a high-level knowledge of the State Standards, effective pedagogy, and child development practices, and ensures school-wide implementation of the standards. 2b. The NBOE strives to prepare all students for college or career readiness through the State Standards (NJSLs). This Competency assesses the extent to which a school administrator promotes and implements the NJSLs in his or her building. The most effective schools set a shared vision of achievement for staff and students. The NJSLs are the foundation of our rigorous vision for learning in all classrooms, not just in Math or ELA classrooms, and it is the school administrator's responsibility to ensure that staff members know the standards, what the standards look like in practice, and how those standards are measured.

The school administrator is responsible for ensuring the school, and its staff, have the resources it needs to be successful. Instructional staff should have access to available curricular materials and assessments, or have the opportunity and necessary support to develop them, and be using them in the classroom. One of the biggest shifts required of the NJSLs is a focus on literacy through the use of grade-level text in reading, writing, thinking, and speaking. Instruction should be text-driven even in non-ELA classrooms. The school administrator should ensure learning is rooted in text.

Competency 3: Student and Family Support:
Supports students’ academic, social and emotional growth.

Indicators	Examples of Evidence
3a. Safe and Strength-Based Culture. Creates a safe, caring and healthy positive learning environment that meets the academic, social, emotional, and physical needs of each student. Policies, interventions, and conflict resolution are positive, fair, culturally appropriate, proactive, and strengths-based. 3b. Family Engagement Around Supporting Growth. Engages regularly with families about student growth and progress. Develops strong, collaborative family partnerships to benefit students. 3c. Student Efficacy. Promotes student ownership of learning, a healthy sense of self, and the ability to develop social and emotional goals. Facilitates student leadership and development of self. 3d. Student Interests. Ensures that each student has equitable access to comprehensive, balanced opportunities and resources necessary for success and to programming that appeals to students’ academic and non-academic interests	Observable: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Parent participation / engagement</li> <li>● Parents have multiple ways to communicate with staff</li> <li>● Celebrations and Events</li> <li>● Parent Liaison Activities</li> <li>● Interactions with students and families</li> <li>● Support students emotionally, academically, and creation of a safe place for sensitive situations</li> <li>● Assigned point of contact supports students/families with difficult situations</li> <li>● School building is clean and safe; all basic facilities are in working order</li> <li>● Families say they feel included and invested in the school</li> <li>● Functioning and productive parent organization</li> <li>● Course offerings</li> <li>● Extra-curricular activities &amp; participation in district/ state/national competitions</li> <li>● Restorative justice/practices (staff and student mediators)</li> </ul> Documents / Artifacts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● School Calendar</li> <li>● Parent meeting agendas</li> <li>● Parent surveys</li> <li>● Student surveys</li> <li>● Flyers</li> <li>● Communication policy</li> <li>● Updated School Website</li> <li>● Student Code of Conduct</li> </ul> Data: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Event attendance numbers</li> <li>● Frequency of parental outreach by teachers and administrators</li> <li>● HIB data</li> <li>● Attendance data</li> <li>● Suspension / incident reports</li> <li>● Naviance</li> <li>● FAFSA Completion</li> <li>● Parent and student data from surveys</li> </ul>

Successful schools are rooted in a culture of learning. This starts with a physically and emotionally safe environment, where students have an interest and part in their own learning. It also includes engaging those closest with students, families, in supporting learning by keeping them informed on student progress.

This competency asks the question whether the school is a place where learning can take place – is it safe and does it foster a positive environment. When this is true, students and staff can focus on achievement and students are free to take the learning risks necessary to achieve at a high level. Leaders should put in place systems and programs that allow students to take ownership and interest in their learning, and ensure all students have the opportunity to do so. The indicators focus on all students and creating an environment where all students can learn.

4. Management and Coaching of Instructional Staff:

Effectively develops and manages talent to improve instruction.

Indicators	Examples of Evidence
4a. Evaluation Aligned to the Framework for Effective Teaching. Synthesizes evidence to provide an accurate assessment of teacher performance toward student mastery. 4b. Tailored Feedback and Coaching Aligned to the Framework for Effective Teaching. Gathers data and provides timely, actionable feedback and coaching aligned to expectations for effective teaching. 4c. Coaching and Development. Invests in the on-going growth and development of adults guided by understanding of how adults learn and develop in order to improve student learning, which includes providing job-embedded opportunities for effective induction and coaching of new personnel. 4d. Differentiated Management. Strategically retains effective staff and forms them into an educationally effective community, anticipates openings and implements a rigorous selection and hiring process.	Observable: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Feedback sessions</li> <li>● Staff meetings (PD / PLC)</li> <li>● Team meetings focus on student learning challenges and progress towards goals</li> <li>● PLCs are focused on improving teaching practices and developing specific teaching strategies to address student misconceptions</li> <li>● Delegation of Roles</li> <li>● Staff awareness of evaluation components, timelines and processes</li> <li>● Selection and assignments match staff to positions based on skill</li> <li>● Mentoring and Induction system to support new teachers</li> <li>● Data cycles are focused on:               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Planning/teaching</li> <li>○ Assessing student understanding</li> <li>○ Analyzing student work</li> <li>○ Adapting instruction based on analysis</li> <li>○ Reflecting on outcomes</li> </ul> </li> </ul> Documents / Artifacts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Formal observation write-ups</li> <li>● Class Visits / Feedback forms</li> <li>● Observation Tracker</li> <li>● Intervention Plans</li> <li>● Coaches' logs</li> <li>● Walk-Through Feedback</li> <li>● Teacher schedules</li> <li>● PD agendas</li> <li>● ScIP Agendas</li> <li>● Observation Tracker / Timeline</li> <li>● PLC agenda</li> <li>● Sign-in sheet records</li> <li>● Meeting notes/minutes</li> <li>● Corrective Action Plans</li> <li>● Mentor Logs</li> </ul> Data: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Staff retention data</li> <li>● Evaluations</li> <li>● Rating distribution</li> <li>● Culture and climate surveys</li> </ul>

This competency outlines behaviors to ensure that school administrators are developing and managing all staff within their schools. All teachers need clear expectations, and individualized feedback, to develop and maximize performance. In the NBOE, the Framework for Effective Teaching is the basis for what effective instruction looks like, and school administrators should align evaluation ratings and feedback for teachers to it, ensuring clear expectations, common language and actionable feedback within schools. Because successful schools and classrooms are dependent on the contribution of all school-based personnel, the final indicator focuses on a school administrator's ability to provide effective evaluation and development to other instructional staff, such as Child Study Teams.

The indicators in this Competency also assess a school administrator's ability to build a highly effective school. This means that the school administrator uses evaluation outcomes to strategically retain high performers and exit or develop low performers.

Competency 5: Organizational Leadership:

Implements systems and processes to effectively manage operations.

Indicators	Key Examples of Evidence
5a. Quality and Management of Teams. Manages a cabinet or teams to meet student mastery goals. 5b. Organizational Systems. Employs organizational systems, supported by technology, to implement plans towards achievement goals. 5c. Communication and Interpersonal Skills. Listens and communicates effectively and strategically based on the situation, and an understanding of all students' and staff members' backgrounds, cultures, and needs 5d. Data Transparency. Uses and shares data to deliver actionable information for classroom and school improvement 5e. Operational Functioning Seeks, acquires, and manages fiscal, physical, and other resources to support curriculum, instruction, and assessment, engages in effective and ethical budgeting and accounting practices.	Observable: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Alignment of Budget, strategic plan, priorities, and initiatives</li> <li>● Delegation of responsibilities</li> <li>● Management / Development of partnerships</li> <li>● Systems to manage priorities initiatives and tasks</li> <li>● Calendar with team building events</li> <li>● Enrollment recruitment/marketing strategies and campaigns</li> <li>● Sends communication through Blackboard Connect, school website, social accounts, SchoolMint, Google Classroom, ClassDojo, etc.</li> <li>● ScIP Committee</li> <li>● PowerSchool/special programs are up to date and coded properly</li> <li>● Ensure report card comments are accurate and relevant to each student</li> <li>● Relevant data is shared with all constituents</li> </ul> Documents / Artifacts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Leadership meeting agenda</li> <li>● Strategic Plan</li> <li>● Data collection and monitoring systems are in place</li> <li>● Staff communication documents</li> <li>● Weekly/monthly newsletter</li> <li>● ScIP agendas</li> <li>● Discipline report protocols are followed and logged in PS</li> <li>● Master schedules are in place for staff and students</li> <li>● Accommodation/ intervention plans (ie. 504, I&amp;RS, IEPs) are up to date and accurate</li> </ul> Data: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Lunch form completion progress</li> <li>● Budget Accounts</li> <li>● Climate and culture survey</li> <li>● Enrollment numbers are verified</li> <li>● Vacancies tracker (vacancies are filled quickly)</li> <li>● Evaluation reports on observation data (all observations are completed by the district deadline)</li> </ul> Strategic Plan data is regularly monitored and updated based on progress towards goals

Being an effective school administrator includes the systems, relationships, and communication that support effective learning and change. The Indicators in this Competency articulate what is expected of a school administrator individually or what a school administrator is expected to empower others to effectively do. An effective school administrator puts the right people in place to succeed and provides them with the systems and information they need to succeed. This includes making informed decisions by listening to, as well as communicating with, others.

This Competency also includes the use of data to measure progress and inform strategic decision making. School administrators need to ensure that data is available and shared regularly so that actions and resources to support student learning can be consistently implemented.

Competency 6: Transformational Leadership:

Maintains relentless focus on improving student outcomes through planning, relationships, and personal responsibility.

Indicators	Examples of Evidence

A school administrator must be able to set a vision and goals, align others toward that vision and those goals, and develop and execute a plan to achieve them. This competency focuses on a school administrator's ability to do so, even in the face of the many challenges our schools and our students face. The indicators articulate expectations of the school administrator in taking a personal responsibility for success and ensuring ownership through an aligned staff. Success for our students requires transformative change across our district, including in our schools. Because transformation cannot happen without change, which is often a difficult process, the final indicator requires school administrators to understand how change occurs and how the challenges it brings can be managed and persevered to achieve success.

LINKS TO PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Leadership Framework also serves as the basis for school administrators' professional development in the NBOE by providing a common language through which all school administrators can assess their own leadership and identify areas where they can improve, to ensure effective staff management and building leadership. Much like great school administrators differentiate support for their teachers and staff, supervisors should do the same for their school administrators by providing individual feedback and support to help school administrators reflect on their leadership and perfect their craft. Supervisors should:

- Discuss and collaboratively plan the school administrator's professional development plan for the year, focusing on areas for growth aligned to the Framework and grounded in Administrator Goals.
- Hold regular conversations to discuss and reflect on strengths and growth areas as well as assess progress toward Administrator Goals. These conversations should be grounded in the Framework to ensure a common language, understanding, and alignment.
- Provide timely, honest, accurate, specific, and actionable feedback following site visits tailored to individual growth areas, school administrator development, and school outcomes.
- Differentiate professional development and support based on each school administrator's needs. Professional development can take many forms, including but not limited to: formal training, mentoring, coaching, modeling, observing an effective school administrator, co-planning, collaboratively reviewing data, professional learning communities, and more. Supervisors and school administrators should together identify the content and format that will best meet each school administrator's needs.

With the implementation of the Leadership Framework, NBOE is committed to ensuring school administrators are supported to improve their leadership and ensure effective staff management and school achievement.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR EVALUATION PROCESS IN 2023-2024

This section outlines the process for school administrator evaluation, in alignment with state requirements, in NBOE for the 2023-2024 school year. First, we provide a brief overview of the components of evaluation – some required, others recommended – and then go into greater detail for each component. (Unless specifically indicated, the components of evaluation for Principals and Vice Principals are identical.)

Application of the Framework

With the above principles in mind, we established processes for how to use the Framework – starting with how to identify mastery of the Competencies and Indicators in leaders. Our evaluation system examines school administrators' mastery of the Framework in several different ways, so that evaluations paint a complete picture of every school administrator's success. To that end, we focus on tangible actions or outcomes that can be seen and/or measured – through school site visits, school academic and professional development plans, or school-wide student data. Specifically, similar to what we have shared with the Framework for Effective Teaching:

- We consider what can be observed. This includes school site visits and walk-throughs, observations of team meetings, co-observations of teachers, and so on.
- We consider what can be seen in artifacts, examples being school strategic plans, school schedules, professional development plans, curriculum, etc.
- We consider what can be seen through quantitative data, such as school-wide standardized and interim assessment data, surveys, etc.

Supervisors will use evidence that they gather through each of these lenses to assign school administrators a score in each Competency, which leads to a single overall evaluation rating.

OVERVIEW OF EVALUATION COMPONENTS

The Leadership Framework allows educators to assess a wide variety of evidence in determining whether a school administrator is meeting expectations and if their Administrator Goals have been met. Observations are not the only mechanism by which observers can collect evidence. Student learning data and artifacts of the school administrator's practice allow supervisors and school administrators to have a more complete picture of the school administrator's effectiveness across all five Competencies.

These different sources of evidence can inform the four major components of the arc of school administrator evaluation:

- Goal-Setting Conference to set school Administrator Goals and professional development goals on Individual Professional Development Plans or Corrective Action Plans, depending on last year's evaluation rating;
- Observations, including potentially pre- and post-observation conferences;
- Mid-year Conferences to examine evidence and data to assess and reflect on progress to-date toward Administrator Goals and professional development goals; and
- Annual evaluations to examine all evidence and assign final ratings on each of the five Competencies and Student Achievement measures.

Each of these is described in greater detail below.

Goal-Setting Conferences / Individual Professional Development Plans: At the Goal-Setting Conference, the supervisor and school administrator should review student, teacher, and school-wide performance from the previous school year. Working together, the supervisor and school administrator should set Administrator Goals as well as professional growth goals for his/her own development. Both of these sets of goals are captured in the school administrator's Individualized Professional Development Plan (IPDP), or Corrective Action Plan (CAP) for administrators rated Ineffective or Partially Effective the previous year, and reviewed throughout the year.<sup>1</sup>

Observations: Observations require the identification of specific, tangible evidence related to actual school administrator practice and student outcomes. Comparing data to objective benchmarks in the rubric allows both the school administrator and the observer to make evidence-based judgments about the level of quality leadership.

There is a minimum number of two or three observations for tenured and non-tenured school administrators, respectively, but there is no maximum number of observations that may occur as part of the data-gathering process. Evaluators should observe school administrators in schools as often as they think is helpful for the purposes of 1) providing feedback for the school administrator's development and 2) collecting evidence to assign ratings at the mid-year review and the annual evaluation. The frequency of observations may vary depending on the school administrator's development needs and the availability of sufficient evidence.

Observation for administrators can be conducted either as single instances or as reviews of work over time. In other words, an administrator can be observed in engaging in a single instance of a particular activity such as conducting a professional development session or giving feedback to a teacher. Alternatively, an observation could be a review of work over time; for example a review of observation write-up or communication logs. The appropriate type of observation is dependent on the specific responsibilities of the administrator. The supervisor should be sure to gather enough evidence to effectively coach and evaluate all administrators.

Mid-year review: At the mid-year review, the supervisor and school administrator should review progress toward Administrator Goals and professional development goals contained in the IPDP or CAP and refine strategies and plans where needed in order to meet those goals at the end of the year.

The supervisor considers evidence gathered through all observations completed to-date and evidence of progress toward goals. Based on this evidence, the supervisor assigns a formative performance level to all Competencies (1-5), focusing on Competencies that are most critical in order for the school administrator to meet his/her goals. A performance rating is calculated based on the school administrator's total performance on each of the five Competencies, which indicates which rating the school administrator is on track to receive at the end of the school year. Although only school administrators on CAPs (discussed more in detail below) are required to have mid-year reviews by February 15th, they are strongly recommended for all school administrators.<sup>2</sup>

Annual evaluation: Annual evaluations are required for all school administrators.<sup>3</sup> At the annual evaluation the supervisor considers evidence gathered through all observations completed during the year, the Mid-Year Conference, and progress toward Administrator Goals and professional development goals. Based on this evidence, the supervisor assigns a performance level to Competencies 1-5. Based on the sum total of these Competency performance levels, the supervisor assigns an overall performance level prior to the annual conference. The preliminary annual evaluation conference and rating should be completed for all administrators by June 15th. The final summative rating will be updated based on the school administrator's final performance on his/her goals once all measures of Student Achievement (Administrator Goals, Average Teacher SGOs, SGP) are available and incorporated later in the Fall.

EVALUATION PROCESS DETAILS

In this section, we go into greater detail about each component of the school administrator evaluation cycle in 2023-2024. Please see an overview of the suggested timeline for this work in Appendix E.

Goal-Setting Conference

School administrators and supervisors should start the yearly evaluation process with a goal-setting conference. In this meeting, supervisors and school administrators will determine which Administrator Goals they would like to achieve during the school year and how progress toward those goals will be measured. Supervisors will also support school administrators in crafting and finalizing their professional development goals, including plans and strategies for meeting those goals. Goals for both the Administrator Goals and school administrator professional growth should be incorporated in the school administrator's IPDP or CAP, if applicable.

- IPDPs are for all school administrators who received an Effective or Highly Effective on their Annual Summative rating in the 2022-2023 school year or who are new to the district in 2023-2024. IPDPs can be completed in SchoolMint Grow and the hard copy should be on file at the school site, as well as, in the Assistant Superintendents' office by October 31st.
- CAPs replace the IPDP for those school administrators who received a rating of Ineffective or Partially Effective on their Annual evaluation summative rating for the 2022-2023 school year. The content of the CAP closely resembles the content of the IPDP but is more robust to ensure struggling school administrators receive the necessary additional support for their growth. CAPs should be completed and on file with the supervisor by October 31st.

In order to set appropriate school-wide Administrator Goals, supervisors and school administrators should review the areas of focus for the school administrator's school. These focus areas should be aligned with the school's priorities. Supervisors and school administrators will then discuss and agree on an "end point" or goal for the school's progress of the focus area over the course of the year. After establishing the end points, supervisors and school administrators will identify which tools will be employed by the school administrator to track progress toward the end point.

In addition to school-wide Administrator Goals, this meeting will also focus on creating professional development goals, which must be completed and on file for all school administrators. By completing the goal-setting conference at the start of the year, school administrators and supervisors will have a shared tool to use in communicating about goals and anticipating growth areas. The goals, and IPDP or CAP if used, will serve as a reference document for other evaluation conferences, feedback discussions, and professional development throughout the year.

Minimum requirements for observations

According to the New Jersey Administrative Code,<sup>4</sup>

- All school administrators must have at least two observations;
  - non-tenured school administrators must have an additional observation for a total of three observations, and;
  - school administrators on a CAP must have one additional observation for a total of either three or four observations depending on tenure status.

- Observations can include, but are not limited to, building walk-throughs, staffing meeting observations, parent conference observations, or case study analyses of a significant issue.
- All observations must be followed by a post-observation conference within fifteen teaching staff member working days.

Outlined below is the number of observations for tenured and non-tenured school administrators, as required under the New Jersey Administrative Code<sup>5</sup>:

Non-tenured school administrators	Must have at least 3
Non-tenured school administrators with a CAP	Must have at least 4
Tenured school administrators	Must have at least 2
Tenured school administrators with a CAP	Must have at least 3

Pre-Observation Conference

Observations for school administrator evaluations may either be announced (scheduled in advance with the school administrator) or unannounced (not scheduled in advance). Announced observations may start with a pre-observation conference. The pre-observation conference should occur no more than seven days before an announced observation. During this conference, the school administrator and observer may discuss the planned schedule and activities/meetings for the day of the observation, the activity/meeting objectives, specific areas of growth to look for, etc. During this pre-observation conference, the observer can ask guiding questions to help the school administrator consider the planned activities/meetings.

School administrators may share or upload artifacts such as schedules, professional development plans, surveys, and school-wide interim assessment results in the SchoolMint Grow system prior to the pre-observation conference. The most important questions to answer in a pre-observation conference are:

- Are the planned strategies, activities, and meetings aligned to the Administrator Goals?
- Are the planned strategies, activities, and meetings likely to support and develop staff?
- How will the school administrator know whether activity or meeting objectives have been met?
- Is there anything in particular the school administrator would like feedback on as part of the observation?

Observations

In the NBOE, tenured school administrators will receive a minimum of two observations, while non-tenured school administrators will receive a minimum of three observations. School administrators with a CAP will receive an additional observation above the minimum. Observations capture evidence of Indicators on the Leadership Framework. There is no minimum or maximum length for school administrator observations. There is also no limit to the number of observations that can occur over the course of the year – observers may conduct as many as is necessary or helpful.

During the observation, the observer should collect low-inference evidence. Low-inference evidence includes the exact school administrator and staff actions you see during the observation. These actions are recorded without interpretation or assumption.

After the observation, the observer should complete the summary in the SchoolMint Grow online system, assigning evidence to specific Indicators as available. Supervisors are encouraged to continuously record evidence from informal observations and other collected evidence in SchoolMint Grow on a continuous basis to consider during an administrator's Mid-Year Conference and Annual Evaluation.

Observations allow the supervisor to focus on evaluating Competencies that are most relevant to the school administrator's growth and development or the areas where they find a preponderance of evidence based on what was observed. Indicator ratings may also be provided for Indicators for which the observer has a preponderance of evidence. Observers should then provide an overall rating for the observation based on the preponderance of evidence for rated Competencies. An observer is not required rate every Competency or every Indicator after an observation. However, it is expected that every Competency will be rated at least once before the annual evaluation at the end of the year. If any indicator is rated within a competency, the corresponding competency should then be rated as well.

Before assigning a performance level to a Competency, it is critical to compare the objective observations with the Indicators stated in the rubric. As with all evaluation systems, there is some degree of judgment involved. However, the focus on low-inference evidence makes the system more objective. Decisions regarding the designation of a performance rating for Competencies, as well as the overall observation assessment, need to be based on the data and evidence gathered during the observation.

For Competencies where there is enough evidence to assign a performance rating, the observer chooses a performance level for the Competency based on a preponderance of low-inference evidence collected in that observation. Observers should report ratings for specific Indicators as well when appropriate. Based on the rating of at least one Competency, the evaluator should then assign an overall observation rating. The observer should then share this summary with the administrator through SchoolMint Grow and discuss during a post-observation conference.

Post-Observation Conference (Required)

Following an observation, the observer must meet with the school administrator to reflect on the observation together.<sup>6</sup> This reflection process is the centerpiece of professional growth, refinement of leadership, and continuous improvement. The post-observation conference must take place within 15 staff member working days after the observation (though it is recommended within 3 days of the lesson in order to provide timely feedback).

To guide this process of reflection and collaborative analysis, the school administrator is encouraged to record their reflections in SchoolMint Grow in preparation for the post-observation conference between the school administrator and the supervisor. School administrators may choose whether to share this written copy of their reflections with the supervisor. These reflections may form the basis for the post-observation conference, and supervisors may record school administrators' responses as part of the process to collect evidence of school administrator reflection.

At the post-observation conference, the school administrator and the observer discuss whether the observer should make any changes based on available evidence. The observer can update the form in SchoolMint Grow and share a final version with the school administrator in the system, ensuring there is a printed hard copy available at the school site. Both parties should sign the form electronically, as well as, on paper. This school administrator reflection should serve as the impetus for the refinement of future planning and the delivery of effective leadership practices. This may involve selecting additional strategies or approaches to refine school operations, implementing additional resources to enrich the staff practices, and/or establishing a direction for professional growth and development.

It is good practice that the supervisor and school administrator reference the school administrator's IPDP or CAP during the post-conference. This review is required for school administrators with CAPs, and is built in as an additional step in SchoolMint Grow for these school administrators.<sup>7</sup>

The school administrator must sign the observation summary form, indicating that he or she has reviewed the ratings. (The school administrator's signature indicates that the school administrator has received and had an opportunity to read the summary; it does not indicate agreement with the ratings.) A signed observation summary must be kept on file by the supervisor; the school administrator may also request a signed hard copy at that meeting. The administrator should also electronically sign in the SchoolMint Grow system.

Mid-year Conference (Strongly recommended for all; required for school administrators on a CAP)

The Mid-Year Conference is an opportunity for the supervisor and the school administrator to discuss the school administrator's progress toward Administrator Goals and professional development goals set at the start of the school year. We recommend that all Mid-Year Conferences take place by mid-February; for school administrators on a CAP, it is required by February 15th.

Using the Leadership Framework, the Mid-Year Conference is an opportunity for the supervisor to identify strengths, provide encouragement, and share suggestions for improvement based on evidence collected throughout the year. The conference also provides an opportunity to review and/or modify the school administrator's IPDP or CAP. As part of the mid-year process, administrator and evaluator may complete an optional self-assessment at the discretion of their supervisor prior to the review (Appendix C).

The mid-year rating is a formative rating, rather than summative, and indicates the rating that the school administrator is on track to receive at the end of the school year. The mid-year rating serves as one piece of evidence for the Annual Evaluation rating and is an important element of formative feedback for the school administrator. The school administrator should sign the Mid-Year Conference form. The school administrator's signature indicates that the school administrator has received and had an opportunity to read the summary, but does not indicate agreement with the ratings.)

Annual Evaluation (Required)

A summative performance review must be completed for each school administrator on an annual basis.<sup>8</sup> This evaluation is a summative statement which incorporates the data and evidence gathered throughout the year. Annual Evaluations should be completed by April 15th for non-tenured administrators and June 14th for tenured administrators.

The Annual Evaluation summary form should be completed in SchoolMint Grow by the supervisor and shared with the school administrator. At the Annual Evaluation, administrators will receive an evaluation based only on evidence toward the Leadership Framework Indicators, and the scoring and evidence-based review process is the same as for the mid-year review.

The school administrator and supervisor should then meet for an Annual Evaluation conference. At this conference, the school administrator and supervisor will:

- Discuss the school administrator's overall performance and evidence-based ratings
- Review the school administrator's IPDP or CAP to:

<sup>7</sup> N.J.A.C. § 6A:10-2.5.

- Discuss the progress toward Administrator Goals using any data that is available
- Review progress made on the professional goals set at the beginning of the year and his or her overall professional growth using any data that is available
- Identify growth areas for focus during the next school year

The supervisor will then revise the Annual Evaluation, if necessary, based on this conference. The school administrator and supervisor will sign off on the annual evaluation.

Note: The annual evaluation will be updated once all Student Achievement measures – Administrator Goals, Average Teacher SGOs, SGP – are available and incorporated in the Fall. The specific measures included in an administrator’s final summative evaluation, and the weights of those measures, will vary depending on the grade levels in a school administrator’s school. For example, a traditional 9-12 high school administrator will receive no SGP score. However, they will be impacted by the SGO score.

Scoring the Mid-year and Annual

At the Mid-Year Conference and Annual Evaluation, the supervisor should consider all evidence collected during the entire school year through observations, informal observations, progress toward Administrator Goals, conferences, and other interactions with the school administrator. To determine an overall rating, the administrator should:

1. For each Indicator and Competency:
  - Review the descriptor language,
  - Review the preponderance of evidence (observations, artifacts, and quantitative data) for Indicators for each Competency, and;
  - Select the performance level for each Competency that best describes the available low-inference evidence. Each Competency performance level has a corresponding numerical score throughout the year:

Highly Effective	4
Effective	3
Partially Effective	2
Ineffective	1

2. To determine the overall rating, the supervisor will add up the scores for each of the six Competencies. This total (between 6 and 24) dictates the rating. The school administrator’s overall rating is then determined based on the following ranges of scores:

Highly Effective	22-24 points
Effective	16-21 points
Partially Effective	10-15 points
Ineffective	6-9 points

Although Student Achievement measures will not be available and incorporated into the summative rating at the time of the Annual Evaluation, supervisors and administrators should discuss current administrator progress toward goals based on any formative data that is available. Once all Student Achievement measures are available, they will be incorporated into a school administrator’s evaluation, and the administrator’s final summative evaluation rating will be updated.

SCHOOLMINT GROW: CAPTURING AND SHARING EVIDENCE

To ensure a school administrator is fully involved and integrated into the evaluation process, in 2023-2024, NBOE is partnering with SchoolMint Grow Inc. to provide a fully-functional performance evaluation and professional development management platform that captures all of the information outlined in greater detail in this section.

Every evaluator, school administrator, and teacher in the district will have a SchoolMint Grow account and should be logging into the system on a regular basis. To login, please visit <https://grow.schoolmint.com/login>. Resources to help access the system are available on the NBOE website here: <https://www.nps.k12.nj.us/departments/human-resources/educator-effectiveness-evaluation-resources/whetstone-resources/>.

School administrators will log in to Whetstone using their NBOE login credentials. If you do not have a NBOE e-mail address, please reach out to the IT Help Desk as soon as possible. Once you have an email address assigned, you may reach out to evaluations@nps.k12.nj.us to ensure your access to Whetstone.
